

FUND OBJECTIVE & INVESTMENT POLICY

To provide a high level of income and the potential for capital growth The Fund targets an annual return of US Consumer Price Inflation plus 3-5% over any measurable rolling three-year period. It invests in a range of asset classes and currencies to achieve a consistent yield and moderate capital appreciation measured in US Dollars. The Fund has a global mandate and may allocate capital across equities, bonds, property related stocks, commodities (through investment in ETFs) and cash and cash equivalents depending on the Investment Manager's consideration of the prevailing risk/return profile for each asset class. As a result of the diversification of currencies and asset classes, the Fund is deemed to be moderate risk in nature.

SOURCE

Source for all data is BBH Administration Services (Ireland) Ltd and Bloomberg Finance L.P. All performance is presented net of fees. Periods greater than 1 year reflect an annualized performance figure (see regulatory statement for definition). Performance is based on daily recurring investment. No income distributions are made – all investment income is re-invested. Performance is based on monthly closing NAV figures. Past performance is not indicative of future performance. Actual annual figures are available upon request.

NOTES

* Equities protected from downside movements due to put protection employed in hedging strategy. Restricted cash is held as margin for hedging strategy.

 09/01/2015: High Street Global Balanced Fund changed the custodian from Saxo Bank to Brown Brothers Harriman in order to convert to a UCITS structure. The rationale for the transfer was that this structure would provide clients with a unitised product governed by European legislation. The same decision-making personnel remain with the fund following the transfer, and the mandate remained similar to that adopted under the custodianship of Saxo Bank. In order to facilitate the transfer, performance for the month of December 2014 reflected the change in NAV from 30 November 2014 to 8 January 2015. Similarly, performance for the month of January 2015 reflected the change in NAV from 8 January 2015 to 30 January 2015. The High Street Global Balanced Fund, a sub-fund of Sanlam Universal Funds Plc, launched as a UCITS IV fund on 9 January 2015. Prior to this, the strategy existed under the previous High Street Global Balanced Fund with the assets transferring from Citibank to Brown Brothers Harriman with the launch of the UCITS structure. For the purpose of presenting the performance returns, the performance of the Fund started on 9 January 2015, while the performance return for the strategy includes the full performance for the month of January (to include the performance of the assets for the period 1 January 2015 to the launch date, 9 January 2015).

INVESTMENT MANAGER MONTHLY COMMENTARY

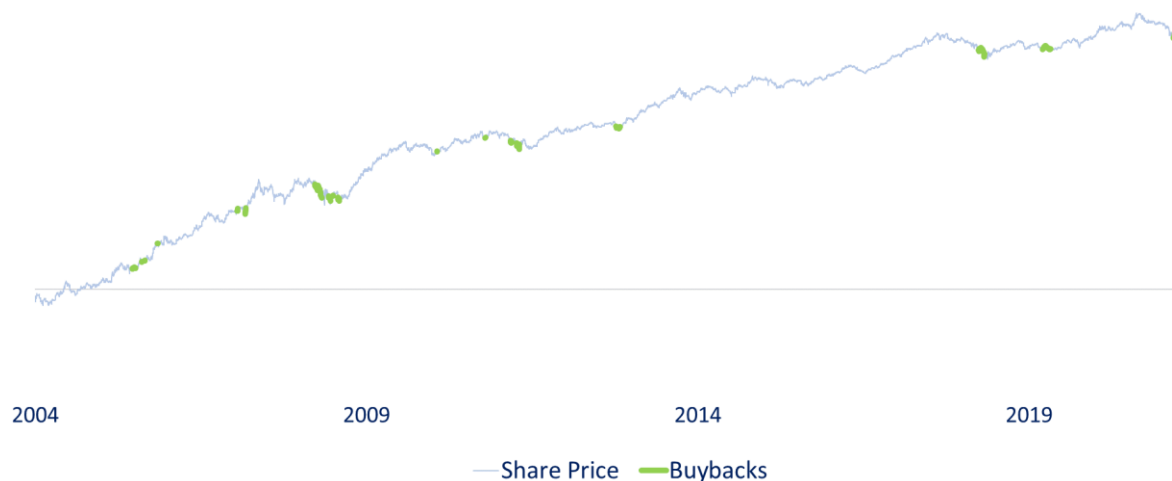

The Fund returned -3.35% for the month of September relative to the benchmark of -3.80% with its constituents as follows:

- Equities (MSCI All Country World Total Return Index) ↓ -4.15%
- Corporate Bonds (Bloomberg Barclays Global Bond Total Return Index) ↓ -1.78%
- Property (FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed Total Return Index) ↓ -5.80%

September was a negative month for Western financial markets with the S&P 500 Index enduring its largest monthly drawdown since the Covid-19 related sell-off in March of 2020. Concerns about global inflation and a rising US yield curve amplified investor concerns.

In the East, the slew of negative headlines emanating from Chinese markets continued unabated, with highly leveraged property developer, Evergrande, being the most prominent. With respect to China, our view on investment prospects within the country has not changed, and we remain of the opinion that there are many nationally important Chinese firms which are attractively priced and boast exciting growth prospects. During the month, we have been encouraged by the numerous Chinese companies who, at these depressed valuations, have either begun repurchasing shares or have signaled their intent to buy back significant amounts. Alibaba Group upsized its share repurchase program to US$15 billion from US$10 billion, Baidu increased the aggregate value of shares that may be repurchased from US$3 billion to US$4.5 billion and JD.com initiated a buyback program allowing management to buy up US$2bn of stock. Alongside these companies, Tencent (of which Naspers, a core holding in the Fund, has a large stake) has begun repurchasing its own shares again, a very positive sign when one considers how well the company has executed repurchases in the past.

Tencent – Pony Ma, The Ultimate Insider

The green shading on the price chart represents periods in which Tencent engaged in share buybacks. Pony Ma (Founder, Chairman and CEO) is a parliamentary delegate of the Guangdong province in China, has led to some members of the investment community suggesting that he has direct line of sight into the future actions of the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) which explains Tencent's ability to time their repurchasing activity so precisely.

We don't attempt to provide insights into the CCP's thinking but it is interesting to note that close to 100 out of the approximately 5,000 Chinese delegates are Dollar billionaires. The overlap between the CCP composition and the stewards of Chinese private enterprise is clear. Whether Mr. Ma is the ultimate insider, or he simply has a better understanding of what moves his company's stock is unknown. Nevertheless, Tencent is buying back shares during this dip which is encouraging given its history of outperformance following such activity. The table below shows the subsequent share price returns following share buybacks dating back to 2005:

	1YR	2YR *	3YR *
AVG RETURN	102%	72%	52%
MIN RETURN	-2%	12%	10%
MAX RETURN	309%	166%	84%

* annualised

History is only a guide and this time may well be different, however, we retain our conviction. The risks are evident and share price volatility suggests there may be more turbulence to come in the short-term. That said, while we don't profess to time the market, we believe our thesis of a sustained long-term recovery in the Chinese market remains intact.

RISK & REWARD PROFILE (MODERATE)

FEE STRUCTURE

Why is this Fund in category 4?

The Fund is rated as 4 due to exposure to shares and stocks, and the nature of its investments which include the risks listed below. The price of shares and the income from them may fall as well as rise and investors may not get back the amount they have invested. The Fund may invest in securities which may be difficult or impossible to sell at the time and the price that the seller would like which could have a negative effect on the Fund's management or performance. It may be difficult for the Fund in extreme market conditions to redeem its shares from a CIS or ETF at short notice without suffering a loss.

Investing in a CIS or ETF may lead to payment by the Fund of additional fees and expenses in relation to those CIS or ETF. The Fund may use FDIs for efficient portfolio management and hedging purposes. It may be that the use of FDIs causes losses to the Fund. As the investments of the Fund are in various currencies and the Fund is denominated in US Dollars your shares may be subject to currency risk.

What do these numbers mean?

They rate how a fund might behave and how much risk there is to your capital. Generally, the chance to make large gains means a risk of suffering large losses.

A Category 1 fund is not a risk-free investment - the risk of losing your money is small, but the chance of making gains is also limited. With a Category 7 fund, the risk of losing your money is high but there is also a chance of making higher gains. The seven-category scale is complex (for example, 2 is not twice as risky as 1).

More about this rating

This rating system is based on the average fluctuations of the prices of funds over the past 5 years - that is, by how much the value of their assets taken together has moved up and down. Historical data, such as is used in calculating the synthetic risk indicator, may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund.

For a more detailed explanation of risks, please refer to the "Risk Factors" section of the prospectus.

Total Expense Ratio (TER) | Period: 2019/08/01 – 2020/07/31
Total Expense Ratio (TER) | 1.34% of the value of the Financial Product was incurred as expenses relating to the administration of the Financial Product. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's.
Transaction Cost (TC) | 0.38% of the value of the Financial Product was incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the assets underlying the Financial Product. Transaction Costs are a necessary cost in administering the Financial Product and impacts Financial Product returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Financial Product, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.
Total Investment Charges (TER + TC) | 1.72% of the value of the Financial Product was incurred

This is a Section 65 approved fund under the Collective Investment Schemes Control Act 45, 2002 (CISCA). Sanlam Collective Investments (RF) (Pty) Ltd is the South African Representative Office for this fund.

The information to follow does not constitute financial advice as contemplated in terms of the South African Financial Advisory and Intermediary Services Act.

Use or rely on this information at your own risk. Independent professional financial advice should always be sought before making an investment decision, not all investments are suitable for all investors.

Collective Investment Schemes (CIS) are generally medium to long term investments. The value of participatory interests may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future performance. Changes in exchange rates may have an adverse effect on the value, price or income of the product.

Collective investments are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending.

Collective investments are calculated on a net asset value basis, which is the total market value of all assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any deductible expenses such as audit fees, brokerage and service fees. Actual investment performance of the portfolio and the investor will differ based on the initial fees applicable, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment of income as well as dividend withholding tax. Forward pricing is used. The Manager does not provide any guarantee either with respect to the capital or the return of a portfolio. The performance of the portfolio depends on the underlying assets and variable market factors. Trail commission and incentives may be paid and are for the account of the Manager.

The Manager has the right to close any Portfolios to new investors to manage them more efficiently in accordance with their mandates.

Performance figures for periods longer than 12 months are annualized.
